Residential Gas Safety

For people who forget to turn the gas off

L0012

B22431

This package is ideal for residents who accidentally leave the stove burners on after they have finished cooking.

Before using the stove, the on button of the timer (L0012) must be pressed. This will open the gas valve (B22431) and allow gas to flow to the stove.

The timer is supplied preset at 10 minutes and once expired will turn the gas valve off, which will stop supply of gas to the stove.

- Your electrician can change the timer to any time range that you require.
- This package requires a trade professional to install the system.
